Introduction

Differentiation

- Webinar – 1 to many – mostly lecture based
- Training – 1 to few – should be more interactive
- Meeting – 1 to few – conversational/collaborative

Classroom based training

- Face to face (see their body language)
- Feedback
- Sit with attendees during practical work
- Easy access to attendees during breakout sessions

Classroom based training

- Focus - Easier to keep distractions to a minimum (phones etc.)
- Interaction with other learners
- Adaptive side-tracks

Interactive elements

- Annotations
- Breakout rooms
- Chat/feedback/questions
- File examples
- Quizzes/tests/polls
- Whiteboards

Chat/feedback/questions

- Set up

The screenshot shows a settings panel for meeting chat. It contains three main sections: 'Chat', 'Private chat', and 'Auto saving chats'. Each section has a descriptive text and a toggle switch. To the right of each toggle is a lock icon. The 'Chat' toggle is turned on (blue), 'Private chat' is turned on (blue), and 'Auto saving chats' is turned off (grey). There is also a checkbox for 'Prevent participants from saving chat' which is currently unchecked.

Chat
Allow meeting participants to send a message visible to all participants

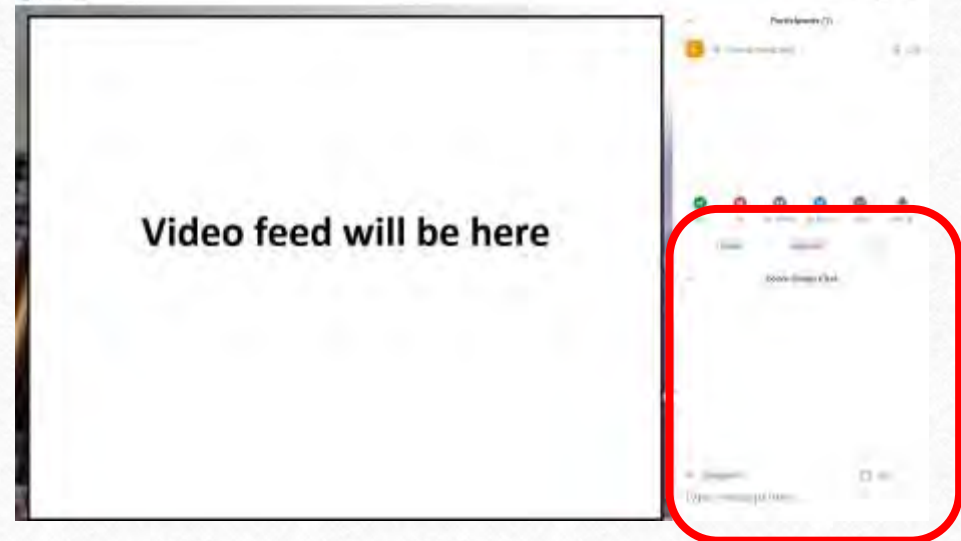

Prevent participants from saving chat

Private chat
Allow meeting participants to send a private 1:1 message to another participant.

Auto saving chats
Automatically save all in-meeting chats so that hosts do not need to manually save the text of the chat after the meeting starts.
