

Secure by Design

Dec 2021

Secure by Design – the challenges today

- Policy and standard's alone drives solutions teams to imagine their own solutions
- Lack of overarching security architecture hasn't constrained solutions
- Has led to high volume of solutions that make end to end assurance and Security Operations very difficult

Secure by Design – turning chaos into order

- Policy and standards still important
- But needs to move authoritative direction
 1. Overarching security target architecture
 2. Direction on adoption of target architecture through patterns and anti-patterns
 3. Driving out knowledge and awareness

Secure by Design – how it fits together
