The appointment

Office of the President

BCS, The Chartered Institute for IT, champions the global IT profession, and the interests of individuals engaged in that profession, for the benefit of society.

BCS is a complex international organisation that relies on a combination of volunteers. At the very highest level, a group of elected members, the Trustee Board, is legally responsible for the Institute’s direction and strategy. The BCS Advisory Council, a representative body of the membership, elects the individual members of the Trustee Board. The Trustee Board is made up of Honorary Officers elected by Council and members of Council elected from within Council.

The Office of the President (OoP) is a three-year role — subject to final election by Council, it is expected that the Deputy President progresses, after one year, to take on the Institute’s Presidency for one year, then moves to Immediate Past President for the third year. The three roles work together to ensure there is the appropriate continuity throughout a three-year period and require the same skills and competencies to help lead the Trustee Board.

Professional membership of BCS is required for all three roles and Fellowship is encouraged. Chartered status is desirable, although not necessarily CITP, and a track record of commitment as an active member of the Institute is also desirable.
The roles

The President

The President is a trustee and chairs the Trustee Board (similar to a non-executive Chair of a company board). The President assists the CEO in leading strategy and direction of the Institute, and through consulting with the Council. Ceremonial duties accompany the role. The range of activities includes: hosting an annual dinner; presiding over graduation ceremonies; visiting and speaking at branch and specialist group meetings; and chairing the Annual General Meeting. The President will be one of the public faces of the Institute, speaking on its behalf in public and, where appropriate, using their personal standing to enhance the Institute’s influence with the profession, academia, government, media, business and the public at large.

The role will work with the independent Chair of Council, and Vice-Presidents on the key challenges facing the Institute. In addition, they will link specifically with the Vice-Presidents: Influence, Community, and Academy Boards to build and manage a stakeholder engagement plan, and additionally with Vice-President Finance and Vice-President Registration and Standards.

The President will have oversight of the work of the Deputy President and the Immediate Past President.

The Deputy President

The Deputy President is a trustee and deputy chair of the Trustee Board. The Deputy President shares the workload of the President, where required, and works with the CEO and appropriate Senior Executive(s) in taking up a strategic focus to lead throughout the term of the Presidential Office. The Deputy President will link with the Vice-President Community to formulate and manage a branch and specialist engagement programme for the Office of the President.

The Deputy President is involved in the sharing of Trustee Board meeting papers/minutes with Council and the general membership. The role requires being able to judge where redaction is genuinely justified and the additional competence to be able to explain clearly, and where necessary defend, redaction decisions.

The Deputy President will chair the public honours group, a sub-group of Nominations Committee. The group will lead the drive to bring appropriate candidates forward for nominations.

The Immediate Past President

The Immediate Past President provides essential continuity to the Presidential team while remaining a Trustee and member of the Trustee Board. This position takes on the role of ‘Senior Trustee’ to offer advice and support confidentially to the Deputy President, President, Group Chief Executive and other Trustees, as required. This position is chair of the Group Nominations Committee and Remunerations Committee, organises the annual Trustee Board self-evaluation survey and produces action points for the Trustee Board to take forward.

This role has responsibility for the development of senior volunteers through its position as Chair of Nominations Committee. This role has responsibility for liaising with appropriate groups internal and external to ensure the honorary officer pipeline is ‘well stocked’ with appropriate applicants and to ensure succession planning is in place. A handover to the Deputy President elect and President is required to ensure continuity.

The Immediate Past President may also be asked to take on ‘special projects’ as these arise.
